

Facts and statistics about the Military equipment inventories and acquisitions of Greece. Updated as of 2020.

This inventory underscores the Hellenic Army 's focus on heavy mechanized forces capable of defensive operations in rugged terrain, with a structure emphasizing armored brigades and rapid response ...

Refer to List of WIPO Standards, Recommendations and Guidelines formerly Annex K, List of country names and two-letter codes.

Aircraft Fighters F-4E Phantom II F-16C/D Blk30, 50 Fighting Falcon F-16C/D Blk52+ Fighting Falcon F-16C/D Blk52+adv Fighting Falcon F-16C/D VIPER Fighting

The current active inventory displays all combat and related support vehicles available to the ground fighting forces of the country. Active hull totals and variant model type (in yellow-orange, when ...

The aim of this study was to develop the first brief Greek-language version of the IPO (IPO-Brief-GR) to be used for clinical screening and research purposes...

In all scenarios the F-16 fleet will share the same inventory of weapons (it is easier to integrate all weapons to a fleet based at least on the F-16 Block 52+ version) and will be structurally ...

The Hellenic Navy is the naval warfare service branch of the Armed Forces of Greece. As of 2025, the Navy operates a wide variety of warships includin: 13 frigates, 8 submarines, 13 missile boats,9 ...

In 2005 Greece purchased 333 used tanks: 183 Leopard 2A4s and 150 Leopard 1A5 main battle tanks from Bundeswehr reserves. This raised the number of Leopard 1 tanks in Greek service to almost ...

Most of the heavy equipment and weaponry of the Hellenic Army is either of foreign manufacture, or of foreign design, license built in Greece, in addition to few domestically developed equipment. Countries of origin include the United States, France, Germany, Russia and others. The few domestically produced armoured vehicles include the ELBO Leonidas APC. However, in recent years, there have bee...

Most of the heavy equipment and weaponry of the Hellenic Army is either of foreign manufacture, or of foreign design, license built in Greece, in addition to few domestically developed equipment. ...

Web: <https://www.busydoniemiecwaldii.pl>